number portability gateway

The iconectiv® TruNumber Gateway* is specifically designed to help service providers simplify and automate management of all number porting related processes.

Our scalable, system serves as an external bridge between the national clearinghouse and a service provider's environment. It coordinates across back-office systems to process porting transactions, and informs network elements of updated changes to maximize call completion rates.

TruNumber Gateway can help you:

- Confidently meet your number portability requirements while complying with national portability regulations
- Automate number portability transactions with back-end systems to reduce costs, time and errors
- Deliver fast and accurate responses to subscriber porting requests
- Keep core network elements automatically updated on successful number porting changes
- Maximize subscriber satisfaction
